

Cockpit Distractions Can Be Dangerous!

Who hasn't had a melt down when the GPS doesn't do what you want it to do? Cockpit distractions have caused many accidents where pilots were either so focused on an emergency they forgot to monitor the autopilot which had tripped off, or pilots who were taking selfies - right into the ground. Together with Nina Anderson, ATP and retired corporate pilot, we will explore procedures to follow to prevent distractions and demonstrate situations that are common detractors that you may not realize. Don't miss this eye opening event. Click the link below and register TODAY.
